Activities on site

6. All activities during the trip to the destination and during your stay are done at your own risk, as participant in Arctic Elements and the activities/events of external parties, such as skiing within and outside of the ski area's boundaries. The guest is responsible to remain informed of current regulations and conditions and abide by them. The guest is responsible to follow the instructions as stated by the organizer. Arctic Elements declines all responsibility for events operated by external parties. By registering for Arctic Elements you acknowledge that there are inherent risks and hazards when heli-skiing in mountainous areas in winter weather conditions. You are aware of the fact that even a highly qualified mountain guide and mountain pilot are not infallible. It is impossible to control these hazards and conditions and the guides and pilots duty will only consist in minimising these risks.

7. The individual organizer is responsible for all activities. Accordingly, it is the organizer's conditions and insurance that apply during eventual offerings.

8. Heli-skiing is conducted only when the pilot and heli-guide consider it possible as per current weather and snow conditions.

9. If a pre-booked helicopter time cannot be carried out due to inclement weather, a refund of 200 SEK per person / 6 minutes (0.1 hour) of unused flying time is given.

10. The groups are divided into even groups of 5 and conducted principally in the order of booking, though discrepancies can arise with regards to the social aspects and efficiency in relation to the number of flights and flying time (applies only to semi-private). For an arrangement to be conducted, group 1 requires 5 guests, i.e. places 1-5. Afterwards, another full group is required for an arrangement to be conducted for group 2, i.e. places 6-10, etc. (applies only to semi-private). The groups are first and foremost based on the usage of the helicopter type AS 350 B2. For uneven numbers of people, we can eventually offer places on other departures and thus arrange full groups. If guests request an arrangement without a full group, the forthcoming proceeds can be divided among the guests already booked. If the trip is cancelled, guests who reserved the trip are contacted at latest 14 days before the arrangement begins and the guests is refunded the entire cost of the package with the exception of an administrative fee equivalent to 250 SEK per person.
